

This full day learning opportunity will provide:

1. An overview of Title IX and Colorado law relating to a school district's legal duty to respond to incidents of sex-based harassment and discrimination;
2. A clear outline of a school district's compliance obligations under Title IX and Colorado law;
3. Comprehensive information relating to the scope of Title IX, the Title IX Coordinator role, and District responsibilities relating to reporting, supporting, investigating, and resolving complaints of sex-based harassment.

Key Takeaway: Our goal is to provide practical training with an emphasis on realistic implementation strategies to ensure that your school district has the information, skills, and tools to meet its legal obligations under Title IX and Colorado law with confidence and fidelity. During the training, we will spend time breaking down case studies to develop your issue spotting skills and utilize best practices when responding to reports. The training will also provide helpful resources that can be used by your school district such as investigation checklists, intake forms, supportive measures lists, and restorative educational materials.
